GENEALOGICAL RECORDS

EXPLANATION

This book is intended to systematize the recording of family history.

Number the records consecutively from 1 to 175.

Record No. 1 may be yourself, your great great grandfather, or anyone else with whom you choose to start. Then follow the names of this individual's father and mother, with their respective record numbers in the spaces opposite their names. Where information on any point is lacking leave the space for it blank. Opposite the names of wife or husband and children place their respective record numbers. Under the heading authorities enter the sources of the information.

Having finished Record No. 1, fill out No. 2 and so on, listing the names in the index in the back of the book as you proceed.
